The instructions you will see

Gentle Reminders

- Most important: DON'T PANIC!
- You are allowed to use any notes and materials you like.
- You are not allowed to collaborate with others - being caught doing so will result in a 0 for the exam.
- You will have 40 minutes from when you start the timed assessment to complete it.
- Even though this timed assessment is out of 60 points, you'll get a 8 point headstart that will show up in the gradebook. This means this assessment is effectively out of 52 points, even though there are more than 52 points possible. So, if you earn 52 points of the 60 possible, you'll actually get  $52+8 = 60$  out of  $60 = 100\%$  on the assessment. (Therefore, it's possible to earn more than 100% on this assessment: if you score 60 on the exam, you'll actually get  $60+8 = 68$  out of  $60 = 113\%$ .)
- You are allowed to take this timed assessment twice within the designated window, and keep the higher of the two scores.

GOOD LUCK!

Format and aids

Format: Multiple choice true/false “explanations” after a statement

Example format:

Four is an odd number.

- (a) True: Three is also an odd number
- (b) True: But five isn't an odd number.
- (c) False: Four is an even number.
- (d) False: Four isn't a number at all. However, three is a number.

Aids: You are allowed to use any notes, lecture slides, any references, homework answers, review questions, google (if you really want — it's probably not as useful), and anything else you can think of except someone else's brain. No collaboration. No discussion with other people.
